

Open Records Project v. Department of Energy - Judgment

Judgment in Open Records Project v. Department of Energy. Procedural posture: District court granted summary judgment to the agency after reviewing sealed declarations and sample withheld records in camera. Record material: The appellant challenges the adequacy of the Vaughn index. Issue: Sealed appendix and public redacted copy. Standard of review: procedural compliance reviewed for abuse of discretion. Record excerpt: Sealing order. The district court permitted limited sealed filing with a public redacted copy requirement. Nature of suit: Freedom of Information Act. Lower tribunal: U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland.